Indices this Office negative except report of SA FRANCIS W. NORWOOD, 8/26/49, to Memphis, captioned "BERNARD FENSTERWALD, JR., DEPARTMENTAL APPLICANT - ANTITRUST DIVISION," Bufile 77-44206. This report contains no derogatory information regarding loyalty or security except that names of Mrs. B. FENSTERWALD, JR., and ANN FENSTERWALD, Belle Meade Park, Nashville, Tenn., were on list of delegates and members of the SCHW at third meeting, April 19-21, 1942, at Nashville. Associates of FENSTERWALD family in Nashville recommended them highly in 1949 and speculated that any membership of the family in the SCHW was due to prominence of that organization in Nashville at that time and the fact that various prominent Nashville citizens supported it.

It will be noted that subject's mother was BLANCHE FENSTERWALD and he had a sister ANN FENSTERWALD who resided in the Belle Meade Section of Nashville.

SUBJECT: BERNARD FENSTERWALD, JR.
ADMINISTRATIVE ASSISTANT TO
SENATOR THOMAS C. HENNINGS, JR. (DEM. - MO.)

Per your request, the following data from Bufiles has been obtained re captioned individual.

Fensterwald was the subject of a departmental applicant investigation for the Anti-Trust Division in 1949. He was born in 1921 at Nashville, Tennessee, and graduated from Harvard Law School in 1949. No derogatory information re Fensterwald was developed, except it was ascertained that the names of Mrs. B. Fensterwald and Ann Fensterwald, Belle Meade Park, Nashville, Tennessee, appeared on a list of delegates of the Southern Conference for Human Welfare (cited organization) in 1942. Fensterwald had a sister named Ann and mother named Blanche, but it was not conclusively established that they were the individuals who attended the above-mentioned conference. (77-44206)

Fensterwald was also involved in the request to the Bureau from the Senate Subcommittee on Constitutional Rights for a list of instances wherein we had furnished information to members of Congress. It will be recalled that Nichols talked to Senator Hennings in Fensterwald's presence and that Hennings stated that the request was improper and offered his apologies. Mr. Nichols reported that since that occasion Fensterwald had gone out of his way to be helpful to the Bureau. (66-18621-269)

I have been reliably informed that the above individual is now out as Administrative Assistant to Hennings and that his place will probably be filled by Gordon Harrison, who is presently Chief Clerk and Counsellor of the Senate Rules Committee.

Fensterwald has been no friend of the FBI. He has a bad background and is looked upon as a leftist. While I do not know Harrison, I understand that he is a very sound and substantial individual, is from Arizona and is looked upon as a Senator Hayden man. If he does take the position with Hennings, I shall make it a point to get acquainted with him.

On the late evening of July 20, 1965, [redacted] of the Organized Crime and Racketeering Section of the Department, confidentially advised that in connection with the Long Committee hearings he has been in attendance at certain of the sessions in which Internal Revenue Service agents were questioned by Long Committee investigators. According to [redacted], the press in attendance at these sessions have frequently raised with Bernard Fensterwald, Committee Counsel, the next areas of inquiry that the Committee will investigate. g b6 b7C

Some reporters have inquired of Fensterwald whether the Committee intends to expand its inquiry into the activities of the security agencies. In response to a question as to whether the Committee intended to inquire into FBI activities, Fensterwald told the reporter to direct his question to Senator Long, inasmuch as the FBI was a "sacred cow."

According to [redacted], the Committee intends to pursue Internal Revenue Service activities in Miami, San Francisco and Brooklyn, New York. Agree 5/20/80 b6 b7C
